State v. Jackson

No. 20060034

Per Curiam.

[¶1] Grady Jackson appeals from a criminal judgment after a district court found him guilty of driving under suspension. Jackson argues law enforcement had no reasonable and articulable suspicion to justify a traffic stop and insufficient evidence supported his conviction.

[¶2] We hold the district court did not abuse its discretion in admitting evidence that was obtained after a law enforcement officer observed Jackson's erratic driving, prompting a reasonable stop. Adequate evidence existed to support the conviction. We therefore affirm the judgment under N.D.R.App.P. 35.1(a)(3) and (4).
